Vanderbilt Shares Had a Short Spell of Firmness-Local Bank Clearings Increase 15 Per Cent.

NEW YORK, April 16.-Bradstreet's financial review to-morrow will say of the week's business on the Stock Exchange: Interest in the market for the past week has depended entirely on professional manipulation in a few stocks, principally in American Sugar and Chicago Gas. Two important occurrences-the announcement of the New York Central refunding plan and the closing of the deal by which the Morgan interests assume control of the Lehigh Valley-stimulated the market temporarily, but had no permanent effect. Public interest is at a standstill, and one disadvantageous circumstance which the speculation had to contend with was the renewed bearishness of London, resulting in heavy selling from that quarter at the end of the week. This was partly due to the nervousness of operators in the foreign markets, in view of the extended Easter holiday recess which is taken there, and to the renewed feeling of approbasion about the Eastern situation. The workness of Kaffir mining stocks and reports that prominent operators in that field have become involved also influenced Lendon and indirectly had a bad effect here. Commission brokers are idle, and transactions for the most part represent the activity of board-room traders or of a few leading manipulators. The market closed weak on Thursday evening, preparatory to the customary Good Friday recess of the Stock Exchange, with London, as already described a considerable seller. New York Central was strong early in the week on the expectation of the refunding plan. The other Vanderbilt stocks were comparatively quiet, but firm. One of the features of the week was the heavy selling of new Reading common, the price of which dropped from 20 to 17%. It was understood that long stock came out, and that holders who acquired the new shares in exchange for the old preference income bonds are generally disposed to liquidate. It was noticeable that the new Reading preferred stocks were comparatively firm. Jersey has been much less of a speculative feature. Support appeared in all the coal stocks, concurrently with the announcement that the papers transferring control dry-salt, %c less. of the Lehigh Valley to the Messrs. Drexel Co. had been executed, and that Mr. Morgan is expected to place a new Lehigh Valley loan in London. Chicago Gas was extremely active. It was supported by the inside party, and advanced to 88% on intimations that the law permitting the companies to consolidate is certain to pass the Illinois Legislature. This was followed by a decided bear raid, based on the introduction of a measure to reduce the price of gas consumed by the municipality of Chicago to 60 cents per thousand feet. general impression created by this was that it had some connection with speculative manipulation, and after the stock had sold down to 81% on it, renewed inside support appeared, carrying it back to 84%. Sugar was the other leading feature of the week. Its position and that of the inside party has been very uncertain, and the course of the stock correspondingly erratic. The other industrials were not ac-

Wool. BOSTON, April 16.-The Boston Commercial Bulletin will say to-morrow of the wool market: The receipts of foreign wool from Rosario, Buenos Ayres, Liverpool, London and the Cape of Good Hope have been enormous. Probably no week has ever seen such large receipts of foreign wool. Much of this wool was approved immediately on arrival, swelling the sales apparently to large proportions. Really there has been little new business done this week. The sales of domestic wool are particularly small. Stocks of domestics are, however, limited and all prices are firmly held. At the price now being paid in the Territories and California new clip Western fine wools cost, landed here, without a profit, 38@40c. This is a very full quotation on wool now on hand here. The sales of the week are 1,795,000 pounds domestic and 7,352,000 pounds foreign, against 3,006,000 domestic and 2,698,000 foreign last week and 2,629,000 domestic and 1,619,000 foreign for the same week last year. The sales to date show an increase of 38,825,800 pounds domestic and 36,535,400 pounds foreign from the sales to the same date in 1896. The receipts to date show an increase of 16,188 bales domestic and 109,075 bales foreign. The American Wool and Cotton Reporter says: There has been a noticeable decrease in activity the past week, accompanied in some cases higher quotations. A prominent feature of the market is that many dealers report that they have very little wool which they can offer for sale. The lessened activity is due partly to this fact, and partly to the fact that manufacturers have been reduced to a state of great uncertainty by the conflicting news from Washington, and are consequently acting in a very conservative manner as regards their enlargements of the raw material. At present the mills seem to be buying only to piece out their orders, and it is predicted by many that will be their policy until the Dingley bill has actually become a law. The most striking feature has been the great activity of foreign wool as compared with domestic, 74 per cent. of the total sales in Boston for the week being foreign wool. The imports of wool the past week have been enormous, amounting to 45,114 bales, which, if we reckon only four hundred pounds to the bale, represents 18,600,000 pounds. Prices are extremely firm in all kinds of wool, the advance in B supers being particularly noticeable. Very good sales of Australian, South American cross-bred and Montavideo wools are reported. The movement of Territory has been light and fleeces have sold

NEW YORK, April 16 .- At the close of the day business was of better proportions than was outlined up to noon. As for brown and bleached, also colored cottons, there was a fairly good inquiry and of bleached considerable business was done in cotton flannels and goods of that finish. in mixtures and fancies. Wool and cotton and wool dress goods were in very good delivery and some new business of importance was laid out for autumn. Printing cloths quiet at 29-16c.

ST. LOUIS, April 16 .- Good Friday was observed here and consequently there were no Ex-change markets. TRADE MORE DEPRESSED

THREATENED WAR IN EUROPE TOO MUCH FOR THE SPECULATORS.

Disappointing Features in Business According to the Reviews of Dun & Co. and Bradstreet.

NEW YORK, April 16.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly trade review to-morrow will say: An undeclared war between Greece and Turkey has been more responsible than any other single cause for the changes in business this week. Actual fighting, with facts which seem to make a formal declaration of war by Turkey inevitable, have affected grain markets much and stocks slightly. The progress of Mississippi floods does not change the price of cotton, and settlement of the more important labor difficulties has revived works suspended last week. The temporary decrease in exports and large increase in imports at New York-20.8 per cent, for the month-caused questions about the financial future which have not much influence as yet. The increased imports, $9,900,000, or over 15 per cent. from last year, and $17,100,000, or 28.9 per cent., from February, if long continued, may embarrass some branches of business, but can hardly exhaust balances remaining from the unprecedented excess of merchandise exports ($323,381,519) in nine months ending with March. The wheat market after its decline of 6c last week was prepared to rise with prospects of European war and increased purchases for export and has risen 4.37 cents since last Friday. Exports for the week are very small and for two weeks but little greater than last year, while corn exports continue over three times last year's, and for two weeks were 6,032,015 bushels, against 1,963,193 last year, the price advancing less than 1c. Western receipts of wheat are larger for the week and for two weeks as large as last year, and the government reports indicate a considerable larger yield than that of 1896, which suffices to meet an extraordinary demand. Cotton has scarcely changed during the week of unprecedented floods, though this year's crop will be materially aiminished unless the water soon subsides. But there are numerous indications that in other parts of the South a large acreage s being planted.

The output of pig iron increases, though fifteen furnaces stopped in March as others with larger capacity started, and the weekly production April 1 was 173,279 tons, against 169,986 last year. While 20 per cent. below the greatest ever known, the output is 52 per cent. larger than Oct. 1, and stocks unsold increased scarcely any, though the largest on record. The demand for nails and wire continues heavy, and in spite of large transactions in the past, in structural work and rails it is still fair, while there is much doing in machinery for export to Russia, Japan and South Africa. But bars and most other finish products are in narrow demand, and Bessemer pig is lower at $9.90 or less at Pittsburg, with grey forge $8.65 there and only $5.75 at Birmingham. Delay in making contracts for lake ore retards demand for products, but hard ore has begun to sell at $2.40 for Chapin. Tin plate makers have agreed on $3.50 for full weight Bessemer, against $3.90 for foreign. Lead is unchanged at 3.35 cents and copper prevented higher quotations for the better grades of domestic. Sales at the three chief Failures for the week have been 207 in the United States, against 222 last year, and thirty in Canada, against thirty-six last Bradstreet's Trade Review.

The great sale of 19,000 pieces cotton goods was considered satisfactory, as prices averaged but 5 to 8 per cent. below the current market, and a better general demand Print cloth sells slowly with-Woolen mills are doing a little more, though much machinery is 4dle, and there is scarcely any buying of quali-ties recently advanced. Speculation in wool turns largely to foreign, and imports of 45,-114 bales the past week and 15,246 the previous week at Boston alone have not markets were 9,606,000 pounds.

NEW YORK, April 16 .- Bradstreet's tomorrow will say: The most conspicuous improvement in trade conditions this week is in the weather throughout central Western and Northwestern States, where country roadways are more passable. There is a better demand for building materials, particularly lumber. In staple lines there is a more active request at Portland, Ore. Minneapolis, St. Paul, Kansas City and Atlanta, Ga., pointing to irregularity of the tendency to recover. Jobbers at Chicago, 250.00 | St. Louis, Omaha, Cincinnati and Chattanooga report trade slow, or that demand is decreased. There is no sign of trade revival in the flooded regions, where the danger point has moved southward. If the water recedes by May 15 one-half of the cotton crop may be raised in Arkansas and Mississippi this year, but the outlook is not promising. Demand for dry goods is slow and some manufactures remain at work without profits, as the lesser of two evils. Demand for wool is checked, as stocks are badly cut, but makers of woolens are as active as before. Shoe manufacturers are working full time. Iron and steel continue disappointing, with lower prices for Bessemer pig and for billets, few, if any, new orders and a tendency to weakness rather than the reverse. A reverse movement is noted in the prices for staples, those for wheat flour, wheat, Indian corn, pork, lard, coffee, cotton and woolens having advanced. Lower quotations are reported for sugar, petroleum and naval stores, in addition to iron | wrapped in oilcloth. Within the inner box and steel. Exports of wheat (flour in- was found the decomposed body of a man, cluded) include one day less this week than It had been bound with a light rope, so The total from both coasts and from St. John, N. B., is 1,344,000 bushels for five days, compared with 2,036,000 in six days of the preceding week, 2,075,000 in the week a year ago, 3,165,000 two years ago. 3,019,000 three years ago, and as compared with 3,963,000 in the like week of 1893. Total shipments of corn amounting to 2,328,485 bushels this week, form the smallest weekly aggregate in the current calendar. The corresponding total last week was 4,645,000 bushels; in the second week of April, 1896, 1,074,000; in 1895, 778,000; 2,040,000 in 1894, and 694,000 in the corresponding week of 1893. There is a marked decrease in the total number of business failures throughout the United States, the total, 195, this week, being compared with 232 last week, 244 in the week a year ago, 219 two years ago, 212 in the corresponding week of 1894, as contrasted with 217 in the second week of April, 1893, just before the panic. The total number of business failures throughout the Canadian Dominion is 39 this week, against 32 last week, 34 in the week a year ago and 23 two years ago. By DAVIS W. CLARK. The offense of the Corinthians may almost be condoned. Their denial of the resurrection led to Paul's masterful defense of the doctrine. This lamp, which brings immortality to light, shines with a ray more penetrating than a cathode. The heart of Paul's creed is that Christ died for sin, and that He rose again. Renan, in his Apostles, affirms that "the nervous imagination of one woman (Mary Magdalene) has changed the state of the world." It seems, however, that there were some men also possessed of nervous imaginations-five hundred of them in fact! Besides these, Paul summons Peter and lection of great value. James and the whole Apostolic College, and finally makes his own disposition. Christ's resurrection is the antecedent of which the general happens to the head must happen to the individuals of which the body is composed. Denial of Christ's resurrection draws after it a chain of "ifs," cold and crushing. Preaching and faith are vain, apostles are false witnesses, the dead are annihilated. But Christ is risen! The evidence of this is the harmony of the fact with the predictions of Scripture; the testimony of living witnesses. And Christ being first of a class, what is affirmed of Him must be affirmed of individuals composing the class. "How are the dead raised?" is asked with persistent incredulity. Paul turns the question to advantage. You never sow living stalks of wheat, only the stalkles grain. God raises the blade out of the rotting seed. He clothes it with a body suited to its species. So God will provide celestial bodies for celestial beings, as He provides material bodies for the mundane. Out of the corruption, dishonor, weakness and natural appearance of the grave, God will clothe the soul with an incorruptible, glorious, powerful, spiritual and immortal body. One cannot follow this splendid argument to its conclusion without jubilant anticipations. The risen Christ will give us the very victory which it seemed the law, the grave, and death were about to achieve over us. Paul bursts out in rapture, "Thanks to In view of all this, we are urged to

THE TEACHERS' QUIVER. 1. The resurrection of Christ is the confessed corner-stone of the Christian system. If He be not risen, it is built upon a lie; faith is vain apostles are false witnesses; spiritual resurrection of the soul from the deadness of sin is an illusion: the resurrection of the body a mockery those who died in the false hope are annihilated 2. "But"-thank God for that strong and inspired adversative of the master logician!-"He is risen!" The fact remains. That, too, after two millenniums of criticism.
3. On the diamond pivot of that blessed conjunction "but" the whole case swings the other way. Preaching is the power of God; faith is effectual; apostles are true witnesses; the spiritual resurrection of the soul from sin is assured. Christ is the first sheaf of the universal resurrection-harvest. 4. The event the world celebrates on Easter transposes its Dead March into a Hallelujah Chorus. Funeral plumes can never nod so ominously again. There is a silver lining to all the somber drapery of the tomb. Sorrow never again be hopeless. THE SALT LAKE TRUNK MYSTERY

Oliver Pike, Whose Body Was Supposed to Have Been Packed in the Case. Writes to Friends

FAR FROM BEING SOLVED.

CHICAGO, April 16 .- Oliver Pike, the supposed victim of the Salt Lake (Utah) trunk mystery, has turned up. He has written to his mother and friends at Fayette, O., where his body was supposed to be reposing in a grave in the cemetery. To the Fayette Record he has written a letter in which he says:

"I wish to inform my friends through your paper that I am living, notwith standing contrary reports. When I wrote home a short time since, I found some trouble in proving that I was myself, for a strange combination of circumstances seemed to prove that I was dead. I lived in Fresno, Cal., two years; in Hanford two years, and the past year in Los Angeles and Red Lands. Since leaving Puget Sound I have lived under an assumed name and anyone wishing to inquire will learn nothing discreditable by writing to the places I have mentioned and asking for Harry Price, by which name I am known. Of the cause which led me to take the course I did I will say nothing, for I do not think I could do it satisfactorily. I am a laundryman by occupation, which business I have followed for nearly five

The letters to the Ohio newspaper and to his mother and friends are taken as authentic, and they no longer doubt his identity. As explained in Pike's letter he had some difficulty in establishing the fact of his existence to his relatives, as they had identified his body, they thought, beyond the shadow of a doubt.

Pike's reappearance opens up the entire case again and makes it a greater mystery than ever. Feb. 3, 1896, Philip Gries and Charles Haas, of Austin, purchased a large box at auction from auctioneers who were selling a large quantity of unclaimed freight for the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad. Two days after the box was opened at Austin and found to contain a medium-sized green trunk bound with iron strips. The space be-tween the trunk and the sides of the box was packed with sawdust. Several layers of white oil cloth were wrapped around the trunk. Within the trunk was a zinc box, the cover soldered tight. This box was also Feb. 8, 1896. It was left at the freight office of the Union Pacific at that place the day before by a man giving his name as G. M. Morgan, and was billed to G. M. Morgan, No. 166 Jefferson street, Chicago. The freight was prepaid, and the shipper took a train ostensibly for this city the same day. It was shipped as household goods and weighed 540 pounds. The box arrived in Chicago Feb. 16, and remained in the Chicago & Northwestern freight depot until March 28, 1893. It was unclaimed, and notices sent to the address on the box elicited no reply. On that date it was delivered to the warehouse belonging to the auctioneers, where it remained for nearly three years. On Feb. 9, 1896, it was decided to sell the box at auction to get back the freight and storage charges. A notice was then sent to the consignee at Salt Lake that he would have until Feb. 28 to pay the charges and redeem it. No reply being received, the box was sold and the discovery followed. The address at No. 166 South Jefferson street is the home of Mrs. Frederick A. Mueller. She knew nothing of the man Morgan, who shipped the box, except that an expressman had called a few weeks before the box was sold and asked for G.

M. Morgan. An examination of the body disclosed the fact that the skull had been fractured in two places, plainly indicating a murder. The blows were supposed to have been struck with a hatchet. Two clews were followed by the police. Henry Devere and Bas Marcel, two Frenchmen, living here, told a story of the disappearance of a friend of t named Joanes Proser Chasal, friend of theirs, Lake, during February 1893. No trace of him has ever found. Chasal was a native of Lyons, France, and was well to do. The two men identified the body as being that of their friend, and strongly maintained that erything pointed to the correctness of their suspicions that he had been murdered for his jewels, of which he always were a col-The second theory was that the body was that of Oliver Pike and that he had been murdered in Seattle, Wash. His relatives identified the body and had it taken to Fayette for burial. He disappeared from Seattle July 3, 1892, and was never heard from until a few days ago, when he wrote to his relatives. It was thought that Pike had been murdered for some damaging knowledge he possessed concerning the operations of an insane asylum at Stellacoom. Wash. An investigation was made, but no definite proof was ever established that Pike had been done away with by the suspected persons at the Steilacoom asylum, and the matter was dropped Mrs. A. T. Masher and C. T. Goriot, cousins of Pike, were seen last night in Ravenswood. They have been in communication with the missing man's mother, and stated that she believed her son was still alive, and that a mistake had been made in the identification of the body found in the trunk at Austin. Presents had been received by Pike's sisters purporting to come from him, and he had also sent a photograph. Still the strange actions of the missing man in the past three years have made many of his relatives doubt whether he is really still alive. They attribute the report that he is at Red Lands and the

MYSTERIOUS TRIPLE TRAGEDY NEAR SACKET HARBOR, N. Y.

Two Women Murdered and Their Male Companion Fatally Wounded -A Husband's Alleged Vengeance.

SACKET HARBOR, N. Y., April 16.-One of the most horrible crimes ever committed chemicals had been placed around it to destroy the flesh. The box was shipped in this village was perpetrated in the early from Salt Lake, Utah, on the morning of | hours this morning, but by whom it is not known. By the crime Mrs. Wilber Crouch and Miss May Daily lost their lives and George Allen is close to death's door. Last evening Allen engaged a carriage of a livery man here. He then went to the barracks of the Ninth Infantry and got Mrs. Crouch and Miss Daily, two domestics employed by Lieutenant Anderson. They drove about the village and surrounding country nearly all night. Between 3 and 4 o'clock this morning they were coming on the road leading from this village to Brownville, when, according to Allen's story, the husband of Mrs. Crouch leaped from the roadside and began firing at the three occupants of the carriage. All three were struck by bullets. The horses became frightened and ran back to the livery barn, in the rear of the Everleigh House. One of the women was between the dashboard and the wheel, with her head hanging nearly on the ground. The other was lying on her side. The clothing of both was badly torn. The dress of one of the women was burned along the arm, as also was her flesh, which makes it conclusive that the firing was done at short range, causing the clothing to become ignited. In the vehicle was found a sixchambered revolver, with four loaded cartridges and two empty chambers. The revolver is the property of Allen. According to Allen's story, he was thrown out of the buggy near the iron bridge which spans Mill creek, and fell into the water, but soon extricated himself, and, shot and stabbed as he was, he managed to crawl to the kitchen door of the quarters, but on his arrival there he was unable to speak. He was nearly unconscious. nor was there anything about his appear-

Crouch was arrested and placed under close surveillance. A knife was found in his pocket, but no bloodstains were on it, ance nor about his actions to point toward his guilt. Crouch and his wife have not lived together for a long time. The coroner's jury brought in a verdict to the effect that Crouch killed the women.

and he was taken to the Jefferson county jail in Watertown for safe keeping. Whe he arrived there this evening he appeared cool and collected and said, laughing: "Well, sheriff, they've brought me to you, but I guess I won't be with you long." He appears to be confident that his innocence will soon be established. This evening it was learned that Allen the man who was with the women, reached the mess hall at 4:30 in the morning, when he fainted, but not before saying: "Get the women out of the creek." He was taken to the hospital, wet from head to foot and showing signs of having been in the water. For some time it was impossible to get any statement from him so low was his condition. Stimulants were given, and as soon as he was aroused the following statement was given in answer to questions: "Crouch did it. It was done by the creek. Crouch grasped the reins of the right horse and I leaned out of the rig. It was a oneseated top buggy. I was struck by a lash and then shot. I tried to get out my re-volver, but before I could do so was shot writing of the letters to the men who are again.
